NO. 47

OHIO COUNTY BOY ORDERED ABROAD

Lieut. Everet Likens, of Beaver Dam, Under Orders For Foreign Service

Seventeen graduate officers at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, including four from Kentucky, are under orders for foreign service, according to information revealed in Louisville, says Friday's Louisville Times.

All are expected to leave here soon. Two of the Kentuckians are First Lieut. Frank Barton and First Lieut. Scott Duncan, of Louisville, both of whom are well known in local society circles. The other Kentuckians are First Lieut. Everett Likens, of Beaver Dam, and Lieut. McClure, of Maysville. All of the young officers have been at the Officers' Training School and have only recently received their commissions as first lieutenants in the army.

Lieut. Likens is one of the popular young men of Beaver Dam, and is the son of Mr. W. S. Likens, of that city.

SPRINGFIELD MAN ON WAY TO FRANCE

Native Ohio Countian Receives Commission as Photographer.

Camp Logan, Houston, Texas, Nov. 12.—The first man of Company C of the old Fifth regiment to receive a commission and see service in France will be Private Ura Ingram, who is now on his way to New York, where he soon will embark for foreign duty. Private Ura Ingram was selected from Company C as one of the official photographers of the Thirty-third division and was transferred from the Springfield unit to the signal corps September 25, shortly after his company arrived at Camp Logan. From the staff of five official photographers of the Thirty-third division four have received orders to report for service in France, leaving Camp Logan on a special train with their supplies and equipment.

To Be First Lieutenant. The orders of recommendation for the rank of first lieutenant have been approved for the Springfield boy, who will receive his commission before sailing.

Private Ingram was one of the first to enlist under the call of the President for volunteers, enrolling with Company C while the Springfield unit was on guard duty at the Western Cartridge plant, north of Springfield.

Ingram was very much elated when he was informed that he had been selected as one of the four to proceed at once for France. Owing to the short notice he was given to report he found that it was impossible to visit the members of Company C, but his departing words to one of his friends that accompanied him to the station was to "tell all of the old Springfield bunch goodbye for me. I'll meet them all in France."

Ingram is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Ingram, 558 West Elliott avenue, 24 years of age, and a graduate of the Springfield high school.

Born in old Kentucky, and bred in Illinois. You can depend on the sons of either one when they call for soldier boys.

The Kentucky boys have heard the call, you can bet they'll be on time. Assured they'll meet the Illinois squad when they reach the firing line.

Some have gone on before to get the camp in trim. For the loyal sons of Uncle Sam who are going there to win;

Then some fine day they'll come sailing home across the deep blue sea. But the Kaiser's reign will be over then and all the world be free.

Young Ingram is a native Ohio countian, and formerly lived at Beaver Dam.

RURAL CARRIER EXAMINATION

January 12, 1918. The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for the County of Ohio, Ky., to be held at Hartford and Beaver Dam, to fill the position of rural carrier at Centertown, Ky., and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post offices in the above-mentioned county. The examination will be open only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

PERSHING VISITS GRAVES OF AMERICANS KILLED

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Nov. 18.—Gen. Pershing, on a trip to the front, visited the newly-made graves in which lie the bodies of the three victims of the recent trench raid. They are on a green hill overlooking a small village.

Gen. Pershing showed especial interest in the simple markers upon the graves, recording the name, company and regiment of each of the Americans buried there, and in a wreath of native flowers hung within the enclosure, upon which had been placed in French the following inscription:

"Here lie the first soldiers of the great republic of the United States who died on the soil of France for justice and liberty, November 2, 1917."

OLD GLORY

Now Floats From Eighty-Foot Flag-Pole In Court House Yard.

From the top of an eighty-foot flag pole Old Glory is now floating in the breeze in the court house yard.

A crew of the Cumberland Telephone Company, assisted by a few outsiders, set the pole Saturday afternoon, and immediately Old Glory was run up.

The flag—a beauty—is 8x12 feet, and is made of the very best silk, and cost $26.

It is to be hoped that it will be raised every morning and lowered in the evening, thereby preserving it.

Mrs. S. O. Keown, Rowan Holbrook and M. L. Heavrin were a committee to secure the pole and the flag.

DANGER OF CORN SPOILING.

From all sections of the county come reports that the finest corn crop ever grown in the county of Ohio will be materially reduced in the number of bushels if the farmers are not extremely careful in cribbing it.

One farmer was telling the editor a few days ago that it was necessary for him to shuck out what corn he had put in the crib in order to keep it from spoiling, and he says he is confident that nearly the whole crop raised in the county was as sappy as his at gathering time.

Farmers—watch your corn!

DUNDEE METHODIST SUNDAY

School Will Give a Play Thanksgiving Night.

The True Blue Class of the Dundee Methodist Sunday School will give a play, "The Masonic Ring" or "The Adventures of a College Bride," on the night of November 29. The play is being prepared under the supervision of Mrs. J. D. Stewart and those who attend will be delightfully entertained. Admission will be 25c for reserved seats, 20c for adults non-reserved seats, and 10c for children. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the church.

KILL WILD CAT.

While out 'possum hunting a few nights ago, Henry and Ellis Lamb and Cully Harrison, of Dundee, killed a large wild cat, which was more than 3 feet long and unusually large in every way.

It was what is known as the bobcat species, and is supposed to be the mate of the wild cat killed near Fordsville three or four weeks ago.

THE THREE B's.

A two-line report of a Kentucky county agent to the United States Department of Agriculture speaks volumes. This is his succinct account of his work:

"Had a meeting at the court house. I talked on whipping German wheat. Three B's—bread, bacon and beans."

War Insurance Law Enacted By Congress Measure of Justice

Washington, Nov. 21.—The Secretary of the Treasury, through the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, has been charged with the administration of the War Insurance Law enacted by the Congress as a measure of justice to the men and women who have been called to give their lives, if need be, in the service of their country.

I wish to acquaint you with the benefits and privileges which your Government has placed at your disposal. It is essential that you and your families at home should know of your and their rights under this law in order that full advantage may be taken of them.

To care for the wife and children of the enlisted man during his service, the War Insurance Law compels him to contribute up to one-half of his pay for their support. The Government, on application, will generously add to this an allowance of from $5 to $50 a month, according to the size of the family. Moreover, if the enlisted man will make some further provision himself for a dependent parent, brother, sister or grandchild, they may be included in the Government allowance.

If, as a result of injuries or disease contracted in the line of duty, an officer or enlisted man of an Army or Navy nurse should be disabled, provision is made for compensation of from $30 to $100 a month to him, and, should he die, compensation of from $20 to $75 a month will be paid to his wife, his child, or his widowed mother.

In order, however, fully to protect each person and family, Congress has made it possible for every soldier, sailor and nurse to obtain life and total-disability insurance. This insurance applies to injuries received while he or she is in the service or after he or she shall have left it.

Exposure to the extra dangers of war makes the cost of life insurance in private life insurance companies prohibitive. It was, therefore, a plain duty and obligation for the Government to assume the risk of insuring hundreds of thousands of our soldiers and sailors who are making the supreme sacrifice. Under this law, every soldier and sailor and nurse, commissioned and enlisted, and of any age, has the right, between now and February 12, 1918, to take out life and total-disability insurance up to $10,000 at very low cost, with the Government without medical examination. This right is purely optional. The soldiers and sailors are not compelled to take insurance, but if they desire to exercise the right, they must do so before the 12th of February, 1918. The cost ranges from 65 cents monthly, at the age of 21, to $1.20 monthly, at the age of 51, for each 1,000 of insurance. This is a small charge on a man's pay—small in proportion to the benefits it may bring. The premiums will be deducted from his pay, if he desires, thus eliminating trouble on his part.

To provide adequate protection until February 12, 1918, during the period when the soldiers and sailors are learning the details of this law, the Government automatically insures each man and woman, commissioned or enlisted in the military service of the United States. It pays the man $25 a month during total permanent disability; if he dies within 20 years, it pays the rest of 240 monthly installments of $25 each to his wife, child, or widowed mother.

I desire to call the provisions of this just and generous law to the attention of our officers and enlisted men and women so that they may not be deprived of their rights through lack of knowledge. Full information may be obtained from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance of the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C. I earnestly urge that the officers of the Army and Navy give to the men under their command all possible aid in helping them to understand fully the benefits that this insurance may bring to their families and the small cost at which it may be obtained.

This is the greatest measure of protection ever offered to its fighting forces by any nation in the history of the world. It is not charity; it is simply justice to the enlisted men and women and to their loved ones at home, and each and every one of them should promptly take the benefits of this great law.

W. G. McADOO,
Secretary of the Treasury.

ONE BOY'S INFLUENCE.

A little boy in Graves county, Ky., is responsible for that county having an agricultural agent, as a pure-bred live stock association, and a consequent improvement in general agricultural conditions.

A report of the state agent in charge of boy's agricultural clubs to the United States Department of Agriculture says that two years ago he received a letter from Earl Gary, a little boy at Mayfield, Ky., expressing a desire to join the boy's corn club and so win his way to the State fair. The State agent went to the town in response to this letter and assisted the boy in securing the necessary number of members to organize a club. The State agent called on the county school superintendent to interest him in the boy's plan. The school superintendent became interested in the work of a county agent, and the conversation resulted in Graves county securing an agricultural agent. In turn that resulted in the organization of a pure-bred live-stock association, of which the little boy was a charter member.

SALT $2.50 PER BARREL INSTEAD OF $2.00

A typographical error in the local ad. of the American Co-operative Association in last week's Herald has caused the management considerable embarrassment, and we take this method of correcting it. The local advertised salt at $2.00 per barrel less than wholesale cost, when it should have read $2.50. We make this correction in justice to Mr. S. L. King, the manager, who has had to turn down numerous calls for the salt at the $2.00 price.

RECORD WEED PRICES PAID AT VINE GROVE

Vine Grove, Ky., Nov. 19.—The first tobacco sale on the loose leaf floor was held today, when 100,000 pounds of weed sold at figures never before secured on this market. A number of baskets brought from $56 to $85 a hundred, and the floor average passed the $30 mark.

RED CROSS URGES WOMEN TO DO MORE KNITTING

Demand For Sweaters, Socks and Wristlets Grows Each Day.

An urgent appeal to the women of the country for more knitted sweaters, socks and wristlets for our soldiers and sailors has been issued by the Red Cross War Council.

It is imperative that all of the sweaters, wristlets and socks that can possibly be made by the women of the country should be turned into the supply department at the earliest possible date. With cold weather coming on the demand for sweaters especially, has been beyond the capacity of all our resources to supply.

The request of the organization in France for sweaters and knitted goods have had to remain unsatisfied on account of our inability to secure enough for men in our own army and navy.

We call upon the women to give us their very best effort from now until at least January 1, that we may be able to furnish our men with these comforts and have some to spare for the dire needs in France.

The women of Ohio county can secure the yarn with which to make these garments from Miss Margaret Marks, Hartford, and Mrs. J. O. McKinney, Beaver Dam.

POOLERS WILL HAVE VOICE ABOUT SALE

Delegates From Each Magisterial District Will Vote in District Meeting.

When the Farmers Co-operative Tobacco Growers Association disposes of the 8,000,000 pounds of pooled tobacco, the association will advertise for five days the best price offered for the pool to put the people on notice of the proposed sale. There will then be a meeting in each magisterial district in the four counties comprising the Green River district, and the poolers will vote as to whether or not the proposed sale should be ratified or rejected. Two delegates will be elected at each meeting to attend the convention to be held in Owensboro to accept or reject the sale.—Owensboro Inquirer.

THANKSGIVING.

President Wilson in his Thanksgiving Proclamation makes no attempt to recount the specific things for which the Nation at this time has cause to be grateful. Had he particularized doubtless he would have given the result of the Second Liberty Loan a prominent place among these things for which the Nation should be thankful.

For the great result of the Second Liberty Loan campaign, with nearly 10,000,000 Americans rallying to the financial support of the Nation and subscribing over four and a half billion dollars for the purchase of Liberty Loan Bonds, is a cause for deep thanksgiving in the heart of every loyal American.

President Wilson says the Nation should be thankful that we have been given the opportunity to serve mankind as we once served ourselves in the great day of our Declaration of Independence by taking up arms against the tyranny that threatened to master and debase men everywhere.

So, too, can all subscribers to the Liberty Loan be thankful that they have been given an opportunity to aid in this great mission of America and have done their part toward giving to the world liberty and justice and security from the tyranny that threatens to master and debase all nations and all men.

Every purchaser of a Liberty Loan Bond has struck a blow for human liberty and for civilization and humanity. Let them remember this on Thursday, the 29th day of November, and be thankful.

DIPHTHERIA FATAL TO LITTLE SUSAN McMURTRY

Diphtheria claimed another victim in and adjacent to Hartford Saturday when little Susan Ann, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McMurry, who reside a few miles from Hartford, on the Owensboro and Hartford road, died of the malady. She was ill just five days. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. D. Bennett, after which her remains were laid to rest in Oakwood cemetery Sunday morning.

MANS GIBSON IS DECLARED GUILTY

Jury Says He Must Serve Two Years For Killing Arthur Hayden.

Calhoun, Ky.—After a deliberation of more than four hours, the jury returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter in the prosecution against Mans Gibson, and given two years in the penitentiary.

This is the second trial of the case, the jury standing seven to five for conviction at the last term of court. Gibson was tried for stabbing to death Arthur Hayden, which occurred at a party given near Calhoun about two years ago. He claimed that Hayden, who was drunk had made some insulting remarks in the presence of his sister.

Commonwealth's Attorney Smith was assisted by County Attorney Alexander and Ben D. Ringo, while Gibson was represented by Joseph Miller, Glover Cary and Louis Igleheart.

OHIO COUNTY

Bean and Pea Association Organized Monday Night.

The Ohio County Bean and Pea Association was organized here Monday night in the office of County Clerk Blankenship.

The association has as its object the growing and selling of beans and peas, and some of the most prominent farmers of the county are interested in the work of the organization. E. G. Barnass was elected president of the association, and Virgil C. Elgin, secretary-treasurer.

County Agent Broadner has received numerous requests from other county agents over the State for these beans and peas, and if our home people want any of them, they should notify the association at once, as the demand exceeds the supply.

J. W. WILSON ALSO "SOME" PUMPKIN RAISER

Mr. J. W. Wilson, who lives in town, but who has a farm just across the river from the city, also prides himself, and justly so, on the money he received for pumpkins this year. Mr. Wilson has sold $58.20 worth of the "yellow pie makers" and has more than 100 nice ones in his loft. He says that there were about ten loads left on the ground ungathered.

QUADRUPLE EAR OF CORN.

Mr. C. N. Baird, of Route 5, brought to this office Monday a curiosity in the shape of an ear of corn.

The ear is 6 inches in circumference at the butt, where it is pulled from stalk, and has grown as one ear until about 2 1/2 inches from that end when it branches out into four complete ears.

Mr. Baird says the freak ear grew on second bottom land that will average forty bushels to the acre.

LOUISVILLE LIVE- STOCK MARKET

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 20, 1917. HOGS—Receipts 8,698 head. The market ruled 20c lower. The best hogs, 165 pounds and up, $17.00; 120 to 165 pounds $16.10; pigs, $14.60@ $15.60, and roughs $15.40 down.

CATTLE—Receipts 1,801 head. The supply was very moderate, the market as a whole active, and prices higher than last week. There was a good healthy demand for best light butchers at full 25c higher rates than a week ago; the medium and common kinds sold 10c to 15c up. The canner and cutter trade was firm and 25c higher. Best bulls sold strong; common kinds slow sale. Trade on good heavy steers was firm and higher than a week ago; medium and in-between kinds no better; if anything, very dull. Good feeders and stockers were in excellent request and higher than last week, but medium and plain sort are neglected. Choice milk cows in good request. Prices ranged from $4.75 to $11.25.

CALVES—Receipts 140 head. The market ruled steady; best veals, 10@ 10 1/4; medium and common kinds slow sale.

HARTFORD

HARTFORD, one of the oldest towns in Kentucky, the county seat of Ohio county, is surrounded by a fine area of farming land, including the rich bottoms of Rough River. The citizenry is composed of progressive, hospitable people, and the business institutions headed by alert business men who are ever on the lookout for the best the market affords for those who spend their money here. Hartford has four churches, as fine a school as can be found in the State, two good banking institutions, and is the receiving point for large quantities of tobacco and other farm products.

J. C. ILLER.

Staple and Fancy Groceries.
Hartford, Ky.

One of the most complete establishments of its kind in Ohio county is the grocery founded here 15 years ago by Mr. J. C. Iller, who has enjoyed a most enviable success and steadily increasing patronage since the inception of the business. A varied line of the purest and freshest of staple and fancy groceries, country produce, fruits and vegetables are kept in stock at all times, as well as cured meats and meat products, and a nice line of feedstuffs. In connection a fine line of light hardware, queensware, chinaware and small household articles are handled as well as the celebrated Monarch stoves and ranges. The store is known over the entire county as a place where the most dependable quality of merchandise can be secured at the most reasonable prices, and its reputation for square dealing methods and generous treatment of patrons adds much to its popularity.

Mr. Iller, the affable proprietor, stands in the front ranks of the progressive business men of the county and is one of its substantial and successful citizens. He is public-spirited, ever ready to do more than his share toward any movement having for its object the advancement of the interests of the general public, and has a large circle of friends everywhere.

HUB CLOTHING COMPANY

Ladies' and Gents' Furnishings, and Shoes.

Hartford, Ky.

Truly a hub in the commercial circles of the community, with spokes of patronage extending over a radius that embraces the entire county, the above firm has during the three years of its existence enjoyed a phenomenal growth and is today one of the city's most popular buying centers. In its handsome and spacious sales room is to be found a great variety of the best quality and most reasonable merchandise including Ladies' Coat Suits, Cloaks and Men's Clothing, everything in the furnishings and notion line for men, women and children, all of which are disposed of at the most reasonable prices. A specialty is made of the shoe department in which nothing but foot-wear of the best materials and workmanship is handled, and the stock is so varied that anyone can be fitted and pleased no matter what their individual tastes may be, and although shoes have been steadily increasing in price for some time the prices here are kept at the lowest possible figures.

This enterprising firm is composed of Mr. U. S. and Mr. A. R. Carson, two well known and prominent citizens of the county, and business men of unquestionable methods and ability. The business is under the active management of Mr. A. R. Carson and much of its wonderful success is due to his excellent methods and courteous and pleasing personality.

THOMAS BROTHERS.

Groceries and General Merchandise.
Hartford, Ky.

No review of the commercial development of Ohio county could be attempted without mention of the celebrated Thomas Bros. firm, the oldest merchandising establishment in the county, and probably the only one in the State to be operated under one continuous management for 57 years, for this business was established here in 1860 by Mr. J. C. Thomas, who was joined in 1862 by E. P. Thomas, both of whom are still active in its management. Another brother, D. E. Thomas, was a member of the firm from 1863 until his death eight years ago. There are only four persons in Hartford who were residents here when this store began business, the place having been a favorite buying center for three generations of Ohio county citizens. The business is located in its own commodious home and handles practically everything in the general merchandise line, including groceries, country produce, light hardware, queensware, chinaware, and small household articles.

Mr. J. C. Thomas, the elder brother and founder of the business, now 76 years of age, and Mr. E. P. Thomas, are probably the most widely known citizens of the county, and still are active in business circles as well as public civic affairs. They are fine types of the courteous, successful southern business men, and have a wide circle of friends everywhere.

A. D. WHITE.

General Merchandise.
Hartford, Ky.

A record of a quarter of a century of successful merchandising is the history of the establishment conducted by Mr. A. D. White, and which is one of the most popular buying centers in the county. This business was begun here in a small way 25 years ago, and due to splendid management, the policy of handling only sterling goods, and keeping prices at the lowest possible notch consistent with the best quality, enjoyed a steadily increasing patronage from its inception and today has a circle of satisfied patrons that extends throughout the entire surrounding territory. A complete line of staple and fancy groceries, fresh country produce, cured meats and meat products, fruits, vegetables, etc., is always on hand, and in addition a varied assortment of light hardware, tin, granite and china ware, and other small household necessities, as well as tobaccos, cigars, candies and confections.

Mr. White, the courteous and pleasing proprietor who gives the business his personal attention, is one of the oldest and most favorable known business men of the county, and one who has spent the better portion of a long and useful life in doing his part in the development and progress of his community. He has kept his business strictly abreast of the times, practices the most modern methods, and is a progressive, public-spirited citizen well deserving of the material success he has attained.

NEW COMMERCIAL HOTEL.

Isaac Foster, Proprietor.
Hartford, Ky.

Towns get their advertising principally from traveling people, and whether this advertising be of the favorable or unfavorable sort depends to a great degree upon the character of the place the traveling man has to stop at while in the town. It is plain, therefore, that a town's best asset is good hotels, and Hartford is fortunate in having one of the best of any town its size in the country in the New Commercial. This hotel was established here several years ago and has enjoyed a steadily increasing patronage since that time. It is popular with the traveling public throughout this section, and many are the traveling men who come miles out of their way in order to spend the week-end here. The Hotel is most centrally located on corner Center and Main streets, in the heart of the business district, in its own three story brick building, containing 30 nicely furnished and comfortable guest rooms, fine lobby, ladies' parlor, sample rooms, etc., and is modernly appointed and equipped in every detail. Mr. Isaac Foster, a hotel man of long experience is the genial and courteous proprietor, and his pleasing manner of treating his guests adds much to the popularity of the place. He is prominent in local business circles and a progressive and useful citizen, held in the highest esteem and respect by his fellows. When in Hartford you will make no mistake in making the New Commercial your headquarters.

OHIO COUNTY DRUG COMPANY.
(Incorporated)

Druggists and Pharmacists.
Hartford, Ky.

One of the most modern and complete drug establishments in the county is that conducted by the above named company, in its spacious and well furnished building on Center street, (formerly the Griffin Block), where a drug business in all its branches is maintained. A complete line of the best and freshest drugs and chemicals are always in stock and the careful compounding of physicians' prescriptions is a specialty, this department being in the hands of Mr. Marvin Bean, a registered pharmacist of long experience and great ability. A nice line of the most reliable and popular proprietary remedies are always on hand, and the store is headquarters for the best quality toilet articles and supplies, fancy gift goods, high grade candies, cigars and smokers supplies. In connection is operated a modern soda fountain at which is served all the popular soft drinks and ices.

The popularity and success of this sterling firm is accounted for in large measure by the personnel of its members, which includes some of the most substantial citizens of the county, the company being headed by R. E. Lee Simmerman, Pres., well known in business circles the country over. Mr. Marvin Bean is the secretary-treasurer and active manager of the business, and much of its success is due to his individual efforts, his pleasing personality and efficient methods and service. He is ably assisted by Mr. Estill Park, who has a host of friends—and with square dealing and courteous treatment this firm has an ever increasing trade. They are now receiving daily their holiday goods and have the largest lines of well selected gifts that was ever in Hartford. They also have all kinds of paints and varnishes and their new line of wall paper will be in about February 1st.

Remember the Ohio Co. Drug Co.

BANK OF HARTFORD.

Resources, $203,109.66.
Established in 1882.

Hartford, Ky.

The true barometer of a country's progress and prosperity is the condition of its financial institutions. Where you find modern and thriving banks you always find a thrifty, contented and progressive citizenry. Ohio county is certainly fortunate in this respect, having within its borders several of the most important banks in the State, none of which stand higher in financial circles than the Bank of Hartford, which was established in 1882, and has enjoyed a continuous steady increase in patronage and popularity since that time. The degree of confidence reposed in the institution by the public is witnessed by its steady growth.

The capital stock of $40,000 and surplus fund of over $20,000 provided ample capital for its large operations. The bank is located in its own brick building on Main street, where it is well equipped in the most up to date manner for the prompt and accurate handling of a modern banking business in all its branches. The success of this sterling bank is due in a large degree to the standing and reputation of its owners and officers, who are among the most substantial and influential business men of Ohio county. The list includes such well known names as J. W. Ford, President, Rowan Holbrook, Vice President, C. O. Hunter, Cashier, J. W. Ford, R. E. Lee Simmerman, Rowan Holbrook, John C. Thomas, Directors. The bank has reached the most prosperous period of its career under the active management of Messrs. Holbrook and Hunter, Vice President and Cashier.

The most modern methods introduced in the bank have made it a landmark in West Central Kentucky's financial circle.

All persons connected with the bank are pleasant and courteous business gentlemen who fully recognize the degree of partnership existing between the institution and the people who patronize it and strengthen their bonds by the constant exercise of a courteous attention and efficient service that makes firm friends of its patrons and argues well for the continued prosperity and growth of the Bank of Hartford.

WILLIAMS' DRUG STORE

"The Rexall Store."
Hartford, Ky.

Since 1891 the establishment conducted by Mr. James H. Williams, on Main street, has been the favorite drug store with the people of Ohio county, and it has enjoyed a steadily increasing patronage during all these years, due to the well known character of every article distributed as well as its reputation for square-dealing methods and polite and efficient service. In its spacious and well arranged sales room is to be found at all times a complete and varied assortment of the best and freshest drugs and chemicals, proprietary remedies, all the best known and favorite toilet preparations and articles, sick room supplies, fancy articles and gift goods. The place is known as "The Rexall Store" and carries a complete line of the famous Rexall remedies and toilet goods. A complete line of stationery, office and school supplies is carried, and preparations have been made to display a fine line of holiday goods, and some of which are even now arriving at the store.

Mr. Williams, the genial proprietor of this successful business, is one of the older and better known business men of the county; was Mayor of Hartford two terms, and one of its most substantial and highly respected citizens; he attended the Louisville College of Pharmacy and is a registered pharmacist, giving his personal attention to his large prescription compounding business in which he makes a specialty. Mr. Williams has a large circle of friends throughout the county who appreciate him for his many admirable qualities and his courteous and pleasing disposition.

CARSON & CO.

(Incorporated)

General Merchandise.

Hartford, Ky.

Established 28 years ago the store conducted by the Carson Company has long been one of the landmarks in the merchandising circle of Ohio county and has built up a reputation for honest goods and square dealing business methods that extends over the entire surrounding county. The store is located in its own handsome quarters at Main and Center streets and is completely stocked with a varied line of the best brands of general merchandise in every line, including men's clothing and furnishings, ladies' ready-to-wear garments of the latest styles and fabrics, all the beautiful personal articles so dear to the feminine heart, and a complete shoe department stocked with such celebrated make as Walk-Over, W. L. Douglas and other of equal fame.

The business was established by Mr. J. H. B. Carson, one of the most prominent merchants of the county. The present firm was organized 10 years ago, when Mr. Ira D. Bean, a younger business man of sterling worth and modern methods, was admitted. Both gentlemen possess in abundance all the attributes of success; are courteous and pleasing in their dealings, and have a circle of warm friends who enthusiastically predict for them an ever widening area of usefulness and prosperity.

R. P. TYRO.

General Merchandise—Coal.

Hartford, Ky.

Just outside of Hartford is located the country coal mine conducted by Mr. R. P. Tyro, one of the best known business men of the county. A completely equipped coal mine furnishes the best grade fuel to the wagon trade and supplies a part of the coal for Hartford and vicinity. In addition to the production of coal he handles a stock of the best grade goods, including staple and fancy groceries, country produce, dry goods and shoes. You cannot make a mistake by trading at Tyro's store as he guarantees his goods to be as good or better than the other fellows. He also guarantees his goods to be cheap or cheaper than the other fellows. If you or not trading with him give him a trial. You cannot make a mistake under the above guarantee.

Mr. Tyro, the affable proprietor of this splendid business, is a business man of long practical experience and has a reputation for square-dealing methods that is country wide. He is courteous and accommodating in all his dealings and has a host of friends who predict for him an ever-increasing future success and widening area of usefulness.

J. A. TATE'S RESTAURANT.
Main Street.

Hot Lunches, Fruits, Soft Drinks,
Cigars and Tobaccos.

Hartford, Ky.

When hungry in Hartford the knowing ones turn naturally to the model restaurant conducted by Mr. J. A. Tate, on Main street, where they are sure of obtaining at any hour the most appetizing of short order lunches, made from the purest and freshest of ingredients and cooked and served in the most satisfactory manner. The dining room and kitchen are the last words in sanitation and cleanliness and absolutely nothing is allowed to enter into the composition of the many excellent dishes served that is not of the best quality, and the prices charged are very moderate when the quality of the food and service is taken into consideration.

In connection with the restaurant a complete fancy grocery is conducted in which can be obtained all kinds of canned and bottled goods, all the popular soft drinks, fruits, candies, cigars, cigarettes and tobaccos, and preparations are being made to handle a varied line of holiday goods for the coming season, especially of fine fruits and confections.

Mr. Tate, the genial proprietor, is well known in the business circles of the county and is a substantial, useful and progressive citizen. His courteous and pleasing disposition accounts in no small degree for the steadily increasing patronage his place has enjoyed since its inception, and he has a circle of friends that extends over the entire county.

THE HARTFORD HERALD—$1 yr.

M. T. LIKENS.

Fresh and Cured Meats, Groceries and Produce.

Hartford, Ky.

Since its establishment here, one year ago, the general provisions market conducted by Mr. M. T. Likens has become one of the most popular buying centers of the community and its patronage is steadily increasing, due to the superior quality of all goods handled and the fine system maintained. In its clean and sanitary salesroom is to be found at all times the choicest cuts of fresh meat and meat products of all kinds, as well as fish, oysters and game in season; staple and fancy groceries, country produce, cured country meats, fruits and vegetables, feed stuffs, etc. Special preparations are being made to supply the finest turkeys, chickens and fine meats and oysters for the coming holidays, as well as other holiday goods, and every effort will be made to make this a complete shopping center for holiday supplies of all kinds.

Mr. Likens, the proprietor, who devotes his personal attention to the business, is a man who possesses in a high degree all the qualifications of success; he is courteous and pleasing in disposition, square-dealing in his methods, and conducts his place along the most modern lines. He is rapidly making for himself an enviable place in local business circles and reaping a success that is well merited.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD.

Practically a daily at the price of a weekly. No other newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

The value and need of a newspaper in the household was never greater than at the present time. The great war in Europe is now half-way into its third year, and whether peace be at hand or yet be far off, it and the events to follow it are sure to be of absorbing interest for many months to come.

These are world-shaking affairs, in which the United States, willing or unwilling, is compelled to take a part. No intelligent person can ignore such issues.

The Thrice-A-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and The Hartford Herald together for one year $1.65.

And now comes "war liquor." Six men are dead and a seventh is dying at Bellevue Hospital, in the license city of New York, today as the result of poisoning from a new brand of whiskey, believed to consist mainly of wood alcohol," says a dispatch of October 31st from that city.

BEAVER DAM

BEAVER DAM, the hustling little city, located five miles from the county seat, is the home of some of the leading business concerns of Ohio county; is located adjacent to the largest coal-producing district of the county, and its stores are stocked with the latest styles and best quality merchandise; has one of the best banks in the State, and is populated by a prosperous and hospitable people. The town enjoys the advantage of a fine railway system, and has nice churches and a fine school. Its business men are progressive, and its continued prosperity in the future is assured.

BEAVER DAM DEPOSIT BANK.

Strong Institution That Enjoys the Confidence of all the People.

Beaver Dam, Ky.

In staying qualities the famous rock of Gibraltar is a piker when compared with the Beaver Dam Deposit Bank. Every wave of the briny deep that washes against the giant rock has its corroding influence and consequently leaves its granite wall just so much weaker, while every panicky financial wave that has threatened our country has spent its fury with no effect on the safe, sane and reliable Beaver Dam Deposit Bank that has weathered all storms triumphantly since its establishment in 1890.

This good bank enjoys the full confidence of the banking public and nowhere in the United States can be found a set of men who stand higher in the estimate of the people and who furnish a safer or more conservative banking administration. Organized with a capital of $25,000 this bank has doubled its business in the last ten years. In June, 1907, just a decade past, the bank had its capital of $25,000, a surplus of $18,500 and deposits aggregating $239,837.97. Bear these figures in mind while you read the following statement of the bank's condition on November 5, 1917: Capital $25,000, surplus $32,800, deposits $399,312.96, and total resources $466,569.07. Isn't that a wonderful showing? Doesn't that comparison speak nobly of the capabilities of the banks officers and directors? This tremendous growth and expansion was made possible because of three pertinent essentials. First—the ability, far-sightedness and financial engineering qualities of its officers and directors; second—the financial responsibility of each of the officers and directors; and third—the moral character and high standing of each of the gentlemen in the above named groups.

The President, Mr. I. P. Barnard, is known throughout the State as a man of great moral worth and business integrity and as a financier has few equals. Mr. John H. Barnes, cashier, stands high in the banking world as one whose judgment is 'unimpeachable. He is courteous, attentive and kind to all who seek his advice, and in giving advice in his capacity as cashier he is careful to safeguard the interests of his friends as well as remain loyal to the great institution he represents. The assistant cashier, Mr. C. P. Austin, is an able aid to the superior officers and is too well known as a citizen of exemplary worth to need any comment. Mr. Frank Barnes, who has charge of the collection department, and is paying teller for the bank, has all the earmarks of, and is rapidly developing into a very popular banker.

However, all in all, the best and most lasting tribute that can be paid The Beaver Dam Deposit Bank is its undisputed claim to progressive and sound business policies substantially established by the enormous growth it has attained in the past ten years.

BENNETT & COMPANY

Where Convenience Rules in Giving Value Received for Every Dollar.

Beaver Dam, Ky.

April 1917 was a month pregnant with big events. Changes transpired both nationally and locally the effects of which will long be felt by the people of Beaver Dam. On the second day of the month the United States declared war on Germany and stepped into a conflict determined to see autocracy wiped from the map and justice done to the lowly as well as the mighty nations of the earth. And in April Mr. J. W. Bennett and Mr. Luther Chinn, both gentlemen widely known through this county, established a blacksmithing and auto repairing business and stepped into a field of keen competition determined to see extortionate prices wiped from the business map and to see that the very best service was given all patrons regardless of the amount of their patronage.

These gentlemen have adopted a policy whose terms demand that the man who wants his horse shod on Saxon motor cars. Now what is it that everybody wants these days? Especially every lady, girl and young man? It's a machine. The Saxon has proven its worth by a series of grilling tests. It is absolutely the best car on the market today for less than a thousand dollars. Get your wife, daughter or sweetheart a Saxon Motor car for Christmas. Mr. Hudson also carries a full line of supplies and accessories, oils, gasoline and fixtures.

Z. WILBUR MITCHELL.

Popular Druggist Conducting Business Started 45 Years Ago.

Beaver Dam, Ky.

The handsomely appointed drug store of Z. Wilbur Mitchell is the result of the efforts of one family, members of which have been in the same business for 45 years. Dr. George F. Mitchell was the founder and he was succeeded by Dr. S. L. Mitchell who profitably conducted the business until 1900 when the present owner took charge. The wonderful popularity of the business and the great success it has attained is due to the honest, gentlemanly and capable manner in which these well known citizens have merited the confidence of the people by their straight forward dealing.

This pioneer drug store has at all times a full line of the best patent medicines, stationery, leather goods, rubber goods, paints, and in fact everything that an up-to-date establishment of its kind should have. It also has the agency for the Eastman Kodak and you know "If it isn't an Eastman it isn't a Kodak." Accuracy is the cardinal principle that guides the hand of the prescriptionist there. Extreme care in compounding medicines is a characteristic of the owner and incidentally only the purest drugs find space on the "Mitchell shelves." The attractive soda dispensary is the popular meeting place of the city and many meet in a sanitary manner.

Dr. Mitchell also is a finished student of imperfect vision, its causes and its remedies, and he enjoys a large practice testing and fitting glasses. He carries a complete stock of nose glasses of all descriptions and his trained ability as an optician has long been recognized. Dr. Mitchell tells a reporter that his business is "looking up" and that he will soon have many novel and desirable Christmas goods.

E. J. TILFORD.

Pioneer Business Man of Beaver Dam Enjoying Good Business.

Beaver Dam, Ky.

After twenty-three years of successful business, Mr. E. J. Tilford, one of the pioneer business men of the city of Beaver Dam, reports that he is now enjoying the best trade of his career. Mr. Tilford is known throughout this and adjoining counties and his reputation for fair dealing is enviable indeed. He maintains a nice, clean lunch counter where appetizing sandwiches and numerous good things to eat can be had. In addition he may be justly proud of a splendid soda water dispensary where all the delightful soft drinks are served to quench the burning thirst and to relieve that "tired feeling."

An excellent line of groceries, school supplies, stationery, cigars, tobacco, fruits, chewing gum and auto supplies are included in the stocks of this busy man. Notions and all the latest designs in jewelry are also handled by him. "Always Treat the People Right and They will Treat You Right" is Mr. Tilford's business slogan and he has practiced his end of the doctrine ever since he has been in business and the public has reciprocated by giving him a generous share of its business.

ONLY ONE RIGHTWAY.

Columbus Realized His Dream and H. L. Leach Has Come Into His Own.

Beaver Dam, Ky.

The value of an idea depends of course on how much common sense it contains and on how much energy and push are used to develop it properly. Columbus had an idea that the world was round and that vast new territories lay undiscovered to the west of his world. Everybody is familiar with the many trials and set backs Columbus experienced before he finally received the backing that enabled him to plant the flag of Spain on the shore of the new world. He accomplished this because he had an idea and plenty of "pep and ginger" with which to carry it through.

Several years ago Mr. H. L. Leach, of this city, conceived an idea and like the valiant Spaniard he set about attaining the realization of his dream of The Rightway Shoe Repairing Company. There is only one right way to do anything and Mr. Leach hit upon "the right way" to repair shoes. Enterprising, courteous and endowed with lots of push and get-there he established the Rightway Shoe Repairing Company and installed all the latest improved machinery necessary to repair shoes the "right way." That was in 1904. Since that time Mr. Leach, always alert to business opportunities, has added several lines of shoes and a modernly equipped cleaning and pressing department. His Wear-U-Well shoes are steadily growing in popularity as his monthly sales bear evidence and the perfect satisfaction that is guaranteed every patron is the biggest advertisement he has.

Mr. Leach personally inspects every job before it leaves his establishment and sees that it is perfect in all respects before handed to the customer. Of course his business is enjoying a prosperous era and it is no more than to be expected for the man with the idea and energy will surely "get there."

BEAVER DAM TIN CO.

A Firm That Merits Your Patronage by its Fair Dealings.

Beaver Dam, Ky.

Just about one year ago Mr. J. M. Porter became the owner of The Beaver Dam Tin Company, buying out the founder of the concern, Mr. Albert Oller. The new proprietor immediately adopted a business slogan that has been the cause of a continual growth. That slogan is "We are earnestly trying to conduct our business to command your respect and merit your patronage by fair dealings and the lowest possible prices." That policy has pleased the people and has proven a winner.

Mr. Porter carries the very best lines and in his selling asks only a "live and let live" price. Keen Kutter implements, Mastic paints, oils and pumps are the best obtainable as every householder knows full well. Then, too, Mr. Porter is a contractor in building, roofing and all kinds of repairing and his business is flourishing. He prides himself on his roofing, the manufacture of stove-pipes and flue caps and the prompt service he accords his patrons. In this connection it can be said that Mr. Porter is not at all like the man who stopped a friend on the street and in whining tones told him that he didn't enjoy his home life because "there's a hole in the roof and when it rains it leaks on my bed." His friend replied by asking, "Well, when it stops raining why don't you go up and fix the roof?" To which the forlorn man replied, "When it stops raining the roof stops leaking."

When Mr. Porter is called and notified that roofing is needed in any part of town he immediately starts on the repair work. Prompt and efficient service and satisfaction guaranteed are two of his strong business principles. We are glad to note The Beaver Dam Tin Company is enjoying extra good business and venture the prediction that its business will continue to grow and take on new angles as the years pass.

THE CLEAN GROCERY.

Country Produce, Cured Meats and Celebrated Ballard Flour.

Beaver Dam, Ky.

"Cleanliness is next to Godliness," somebody said once and thousands upon thousands have repeated that saying with growing conviction of its truth ever since. Wholesome food must be clean and right—there is the secret of the great success as a food distributor attained by Mr. George W. Brunton, proprietor of The Clean Grocery. He has been in business two years and during that time has devoted his energies to conducting a modern grocery; to caring for his customer's wants in the most satisfactory way and to keeping at all times his stock fresh and clean.

Besides groceries, both staple and fancy, Mr. Brunton carries complete lines of cured meats and fresh country produce, butter eggs and lard. Then, too, he is the agent for the celebrated Ballard Flour, made in Louisville, and he reports that his business is growing steadily. He is courteous and obliging and will not be satisfied with passable service for he says, "I am going to give my patrons the very best for their money and I am going to give it to them on a clean and sanitary condition." Prices at The Clean Grocery are moderate and values exceptionally good, according to several customers interviewed by a reporter.

of practical and absolutely necessary articles that Mr. King will offer as ideal Christmas gifts. It is almost a safe bet that in every household there are defective clocks, they either need regulating or they are worn out altogether. And it is also a safe bet that no remembrance will oftener remind the receiver of the gift of the giver than will a clock or watch, for every time either is used the kindness of the donor is remembered.

Mr. King has been in the jewelry business in Beaver Dam about three years and during that time has built up a patronage of which he is justly proud. As an optician he is thoroughly competent. He exercises extreme care in fitting glasses and in testing eyes and furthermore he is not one to demand holdup prices for every little service, or for anything he may do for his customers. He carries a full line of nose glasses, spectacles and tortoise shell glasses as well as a plentiful stock of extra lenses and his prices are always moderate.

The King Jewelry store is one of the handsomest in this part of the State and is conveniently appointed with the latest store equipment. Mr. King has lived among us long enough to need no introduction to the people. He is enterprising, public spirited and a model citizen in every respect and justly deserves the high esteem in which he is held by the public and the liberal patronage the appreciating public accords him.

COOPER BROTHERS.

Honest Merchandising has Earned Fine Reputation for This Firm.

Beaver Dam, Ky.

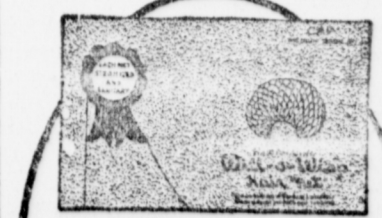

Natives of Cromwell, Kentucky, Messrs. T. E. and B. F. Cooper spent their early life there, but about four years ago they decided to move to the thriving city of Beaver Dam and open a general merchandise establishment. This they did and during their business career here they have earned a reputation for honest merchandising that has caused their business to grow and expand by leaps and bounds. As the saying has it, "they have arrived." They carry big lines of shoes for men and women, men's furnishings, ladies' ready-to-wear, clothing, carpets, rugs and a full line of groceries and produce.

The new winter styles in the well known Hamilton-Brown shoes for men have arrived and are being rapidly gobbled up by the enthusiastic patrons. These shoes are made by the most reliable people, sold here in Beaver Dam by the most reliable firm and are priced reasonably. For ladies the firm handles the American Lady Shoes, the very latest of fashion's whims in ultra modish lasts. The high top boots are meeting a popular demand of the young ladies. Then the children are well cared for in this immense stock by having the famous Walton line to select from. Serviceable, indeed, are the shoes for the growing lad and lass that Cooper Brothers offer at moderate prices.

The grocery stock is always fresh, clean and full of all the good things to eat. And the beauty of the Cooper Business Way is that everything is guaranteed to be just as represented. In other words satisfaction for the customer must be maintained.

JUDGE COURT OF APPEALS.

We are authorized to announce
HON. J. W. HENSON, of Henderson, a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals from the Second Appellate District (subject to the action of the Democratic party).

RECENT RING RULES.

"You dare not write a name.

You must not make a figure:

No vote for a Democrat,

But one for every nigger."

After raking and scraping Hayti on election day for every negro woman that could tell a log cabin from a rooster, the strictly legal certificate manipulators, through their mouthpiece, refer to the Democrats "dragging out" their women folks to vote.
Just "women folks"—suppose they would call the dusky damsels and black mammas they brought out "ladies of color."

Conservatively estimated, seventy-five per cent of the white women who participated in the election voted for Ozma Shults. Pray tell us what class of citizens has the public schools more at heart than these noble women? Yet this apostle of freedom contends that the Democrats not only had no ticket but actually had no right to vote at all. "Void" says it.
The local legal lights so pronounced the peccol voting. My, my! What a nice kettle of fish! The gall of a crowd that want to deny the white women the same privilege they insist the black ones have.

Then it says the Republicans just voted from force of habit—no contest, their election being a foregone conclusion. Such a pity that all those eloquent speeches in Hayti, heart-to-heart talks, and those promises for fine school buildings were not saved for a sure enough election.
"No interest," yet our information is that one of the Republican candidates found it necessary to warn some negroes that if they wrote the name of a Democrat on their ballots it would be an act of forgery. Considering what was done and attempted by the Republican leaders in Hartford, when, as they say, there was no opposition, we are wondering just what they would resort to in a real contest.

Even one of their nominees for a minor office would not stand for the illiberal, intolerant methods. This candidate, who, we understand says he did not file his nomination certificate (although it got filed) had the manhood and courage to repudiate the intrigue of these enemies to a free ballot by voting the straight Democratic ticket as we are informed. That's not all. There are hundreds of Republicans in the ranks whose sense of justice prompts them to swat the ring-leaders who would take the same technical advantage of their own party members if necessary to accomplish their selfish ends.

No, no, Brother Thomas—you have "the wrong rat by the tail"—The Herald applauds the misfortune of no one, and it is not tickled over the fact that Mr. Hamby, the Republican nominee for Senator from the Hopkins-Christian district, will lose his seat in the Senate because he failed to resign as a member of the Christian Fiscal Court before being elected to the Senate. We just mentioned the fact that it was a pity that some of the legal lights of Ohio county, who engineered the deal in keeping the Democratic nominees off the ballot, could not have extended their scope to their sister county and notified Mr. Hamby to resign. The Republican says "here is a case where common decency, to say nothing of broadmindedness, demands that a fairly elected official should not be deprived of his office upon a technicality." "Ye gods and little fishes!" Common decency and broadmindedness! What do you call the deal handed the Democratic nominees? See anything that resembles common decency and broadminded-ness in it? No, there is not the first semblance of common decency, broadmindedness nor fair play when more than 3,000 people are virtually robbed of their right of suffrage, and this is what happened when the Democrats were kept off the ballot by a mere technicality, and nothing more. Had The Herald upheld a raw deal like that given the Democrats as did the Republican, we would never mention decency, broadmindedness or anything else pertaining to fair play.

It will soon be time to market the crops of Ohio county. In what condition are our roads?

There is one conscientious man in Kentucky, if reports be true. He is John Moorman, of Bowling Green, who stopped an auctioneer, who was selling some young cattle for him, when the heifers reached $135 per head.

Danced herself to death at age of 60. This is what Mrs. Red Toma-hawk, whose husband enjoys the distinction of having killed Sioux Chief Sitting Bull, did while participating in an Indian dance at Ft. Yates, North Dakota.

Fuel conservation—that's the cry now, and an eastern church has announced that there will be no more evening services in a effort to conserve the fuel supply. And an Owingsville, Ky., girl has notified her boy friends that she would receive no more company at night in order to conserve the fuel supply.

"Everywhere you go you see girls kissing soldiers and sailors. Nobody else has a chance," said a young man who walked into the office of the New York Board of Health. When it was suggested that he might get his share of the kisses if he enlisted, he made no reply. Wonder if this guy would be satisfied with the world
if he had a fence around it?

The Republicans say the Democratic nominees who did not have enough sense to get on the ballot, did not have sense enough to serve as county officers. But we venture the assertion that the Democratic nominee for Sheriff would have had more
"gumption," in summoning a lunacy jury, than to have picked up the subject to be tried to sit on his own case.

Our political adversaries seem to get some relief of conscience from the fact that on their pet technical point the Court of Appeals refused to sustain Judge Rhea in granting the injunction against the clerk who acted so faithfully (?) in dealing with his political opponents. However, they take care not to report the fact that two of the greatest Judges on the high court bench held, in dissenting, that it was not necessary for the candidates to file the certificates which had been issued by the clerk himself. We refer to Chief Justice W. E. Settle, our own able member, and Judge John D. Carroll, the noted jurist and compiler of the Kentucky Statutes and Codes.

Are you taking any part in the patriotic movements in Ohio county?
We mean by this are you giving of your time and money. As we said last week, Ohio county is lagging in the matter of patriotism, and it looks as if it will be necessary for a German bomb to be dropped within our gates to wake us up. We must realize the fact that we are at war with one of the most powerful nations on earth and that it will take food, money and men to win it—and we must win! Donate at your first opportunity to the Library Fund, the Y. M. C. A. Fund, or any other movement that has for its object the advancement of our boys at the front.
Get the spirit that pervades the balance of the country. Let's be up and doing!

The Herald this week publishes a brief biographical sketch of the principal towns of the county and of the various lines of business conducted in these towns. It is well, we think, to acquaint our readers with the hustling business men of Ohio county, and we know of no better way of doing it than as it appears in The Herald this week. We were assisted in this work by Major H. L. Hunt, an experienced newspaper man, who has held positions on some of the large-est dailies in the country, and we wish to thank the business men of the county, who generously furnished him with information in getting out one of the greatest boasts the business interests of Ohio county has ever had.

The Hartford Republican says that in Mr. Robertson's majority in North Rockport is 57 votes given him through an error of the election officers. We are inclined to the opinion, and believe it would be verified were the ballots of that precinct recounted that Mr. Blankenship should have received 20 votes there instead of 83.
It is reasonable to suppose that the mistake was made in "scratched" ballots, and that when a voter stamped under the Republican device and then crossed over to Robertson, that the ballot was counted for both when it should have been counted for the straight Republican ticket except in the Clerk's race. North Rockport had an intelligent, upright set of election officers, but a mistake similar to this has occurred heretofore, and there is no reason why it could not occur again.

If there is any indication of sickness in your hogs, have an experienced man see them at once; the sickness may be hog cholera.

IN MEMORY

Of little Kendall C. Wakeland, son of A. J. and L. M. Wakeland, who departed this life Nov. 5, 1917, aged 3 years, 5 months and 13 days.

He was a bright and loving little child, (a mother's priceless jewel) and seemingly he possessed more than the usual amount of intelligence for a child that age. He made the remark to his mother just a short time before his death, "That the sunshine looked so pretty," but the Saviour said, "Suffer little children to come unto Me," and in obedience to this command he has gone.

It was so hard to give him up, but in humble submission we bow to Him who doeth all things well. The parents memory of his short life here on earth cannot be expressed by them in words, but will remain in the hearts of friends until we are called to meet him at the Saviour's right hand.

Farewell little Kendall,

On earth we'll meet no more,

But we hope to meet you little darling,

On that happy golden shore.

ONE WHO LOVED HIM.

Select Your Winter Shoes From Our Stock!

WINTER is coming. Winter means cold, rain, snow, slush and ice. Wet feet at this time of the year may cause a severe cold, or worse.

To protect your health, and the health of your family, you should see to it that your shoes are good, solid leather. Substitutes for leather, like "paper" fiber board, etc., (used in many shoes,) do not give proper protection in bad weather.

You take no chances in buying our "STAR BRAND" Shoes, for every pair, no matter what the price may be, is made of GOOD DURABLE LEATHER—no "paper" or other substitutes in any part of them. They are just the kind of good, honest shoes, you need for winter.

We have a large stock for men, women and children. Best grade, Stronger Than The Law, for men.

WAR TALKS

By UNCLE DAN

Number Two

Jimmie Collins Tells What He Saw—
What Military Training Does for Boys.

"Well, here we are!" exclaimed Billie, presenting his chum, Jimmie Collins.

"Very glad to see you, Mr. Collins," said Uncle Dan with a smile.

"Aw," said Billie, "Just call him Jimmie. That's the only name he knows. He's the pitcher of our baseball nine, and he's some pitcher, too. Just feel of his arm."

"Well," said Uncle Dan, feeling, "That's a mighty good arm!"

"Now, boys," said Uncle Dan, "what do you want to talk about?"

"Well," said Jimmie, "I was down to Galesburg a few months ago when the boys came home from the Mexican border. They looked fine. Everybody was surprised to see how straight they stood and how manly they were. The boys seemed proud to wear the uniform. I tell you their muscles were as hard as nails. I heard Banker Haskett say that the training and discipline the boys had had was exactly what every boy in the country ought to have, and that now these boys could get a better job at higher pay than they could have had before. Do you think that's so, Uncle Dan?"

Uncle Dan replied: "I have a friend who employs hundreds of young men. He always gives boys having had military training the preference; he says it pays to do so. He finds they are more alert, more prompt, more courteous; they know how to carry out orders; they are quicker to think and to act than those without training. He said from his experience he believed that six or eight months of intensive military training would add at least 20 per cent to a man's earning capacity, and that it was the best investment any young man could make.

"Billie, if you will go up to my room and bring my small handbag, I will let you see two photographs of the same young man, showing what only five months of intensive training on the Mexican border did for him."

The bag was brought. Uncle Dan, showing the pictures, said: "Well, here they are. They tell their own story and it is a mighty interesting one. The young man, before training, has a discouraged look; he has seen but little of the world. There was very little in his surroundings to bring him out. When he joined the colors and Uncle Sam took him in charge, life for him took on a new meaning. He saw a chance to do something and be something. He woke up. His captain says he is twice the man he was when he joined the army. This may be one of the extreme cases," said Uncle Dan. "I can tell you, though, that war or no war, no one thing will do the young men of this nation so much good in so short a time as a few months of intensive military training. It fits a man to fight his own life battles in the business world as well as to defend his country and its flag."

"Nearly every civilized country gives its boys military training. It is compulsory. It is based upon the fact that it is the duty of everyone to help defend his country; and as war is now carried on, no one can do much unless he is trained. Also, the records show that the killed and wounded among untrained troops is nearly three times as great as it is with well-trained men who know how to fight and how to protect themselves. By this plan a nation has trained men to defend her and the individual is a stronger and better man for the training."

"If the Chamberlain Bill for Military Training is passed by congress, as it ought to be, the same thing would be done for millions of other young men throughout the land. Everybody ought to demand of his congressman and senators the passage of this bill."

"All right, sir, exclaimed Jimmie, we will see Judge Brownell, Mr. Haskett, and Professor Slocum, and get them busy."

KENTUCKY EQUAL RIGHTS ASSOCIATION

The Kentucky Equal Rights Association issues this CALL to its County Auxiliaries to send their elected delegates to meet with officers, committees and members in Annual Convention. The place chosen is Lexington, Kentucky, Phoenix Hotel. The date, November 30th-December 1, 1917.

Since we last met our country has entered the struggle of nations that the world may be made safe for Democracy. In this hour of trial the bonds of united womanhood are forged the stronger. Women of the world are united in giving to the utmost, their service to their countries are realizing their dependence upon woman as never before.

The greatest nations among our Allies have promised their women a full share in Government and, from the ruin of their battlefield, rises the spirit of a new Democracy.

Russia has answered the call of freedom; Great Britain has pledged full suffrage to woman; Canada has enfranchised five of her provinces and France only awaits for peace to give political equality to her women. We have gained presidential suffrage in seven States this year and, with our President urging the States to give women a voice in Government, it seems as if the day of world-wide Democracy is really beginning to dawn.

Today we are facing new problems and new issues. Plans will be perfected at this Convention for greater and more united patriotic service. Policies will be outlined for the coming year's work.

We urge our members and friends to meet with us and make this the greatest convention of our history. We believe, when we again assemble, it will be as full citizens.

NORTH AND SOUTH PROFIT FROM TICK RELEASES

Cattle Fever Quarantine Lifted
By Department of Agriculture Order.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19.—An order signed by Secretary of Agriculture D. F. Houston lifts on December 1 from 65,520 square miles in Southern States the Federal quarantine against movement of Southern cattle. It is of great importance to cattle raisers and dealers of Northern States as well as those of the South.

In regions infested by the cattle tick it has not been held safe to import better stock for the improvement of Southern herds because cattle freshly brought in from regions where the tick is not prevalent are especially prone to sicken and die from the fever germs carried by the blood-sucking parasite. The Federal quarantine against the cattle tick, on the other hand, has prevented the shipment of cattle from infested sections for use as stockers and feeders in free territory, and permits their shipment into free territory only under quarantine restrictions and for immediate slaughter.

The release order for December 1 frees the largest amount of territory ever liberated at one time since the Federal campaign against the cattle tick was started in 1906, and, added to 5,234 square miles freed in March and September, will make 1917 by far the greatest year so far in the annihilation of the tick.

Nine Southern States will benefit by the release order. The largest beneficiary will be Mississippi which will be entirely freed from quarantine and will open a broad avenue of tick-free territory from the Northern States to the Gulf of Mexico.

Says Phosphates Make Beautiful Women and Strong, Healthy, Vigorous, Robust Men.

Physicians all over the world are prescribing phosphates to build up run down emic conditions and those who have treated their patients with Argo-Phosphate are changing thin, emic women with toneless tissues, flabby flesh, into the most beautiful rosy cheeked plump round formed woman imaginable.

Atlanta, Ga.—Dr. Jacobson said in a recent interview that 90 per cent. of anemia comes from nervous breakdown which can only be corrected by supplying the necessary phosphates to the nervous system that is lacking in the food you eat, and this can be quickly supplied by taking one or two 5-grain Argo-Phosphate tablets after each meal, and at bed time. It will in many cases make a pale scrawny face the picture of health in a few days. I have seen women that I expected would have to be kept under treatment for months restored to perfect health in one or two weeks time.

SPECIAL NOTICE—The Argo-Phosphate recommended by Dr. F. H. Jacobson, contains phosphates such as are prescribed by leading physicians throughout the world, and it will be found the most effective form for treating patients with nervous dyspepsia, stomach troubles, brain lag and nervous prostration. It will renew youthful vim and vigor, and build up the whole body. If your druggist will not supply you with Argo-Phosphate, send $1.00 for two weeks treatment to Argo Laboratories, 10 Forsyth St., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

CENTERTOWN

CENTERTOWN is situated six miles from the county seat, on the M. H. & E. R. R., and is the buying center for the people who live in the surrounding country. The town is surrounded by a fine farming section, and the stocks of up-to-date merchandise carried by its progressive business men assure the people of that section the best to be had. One of the biggest coal mines in the county is in process of completion there and when fully developed will mean much to Centertown. It has a fine banking institution, good churches and a first-class school, and live, progressive business men.

FARMERS BANK.

Resources, $98,705.91.
Centertown, Ky.

Beginning in a small way on July 1, 1911, The Farmers Bank has enjoyed a strong and substantial growth and today takes rank among the really successful and prominent financial institutions of the county. At the end of the first year's business the total deposits were $35,000, which have increased to the handsome sum of $77,645.35, and the confidence shown in the institution by the people of this vicinity is evidenced by the fact that its individual deposits at this date are $77,645.35. The bank was capitalized at $15,000, to which has been added a surplus fund of $4,000. It is located in its own handsome building, equipped for the prompt and accurate conduct of a general banking business in all its branches. The bank operates under the direct supervision of the State Banking Department. It is insured heavily against loss by burglary, is fire proof. Its officers are amply bonded and every precaution is taken for the absolute protection of its patrons. Much of the success of the Farmers' Bank is due to the high standing of its officers and directors, which immediately establish the institution in favor of the public. They rank among the most prominent and substantial business men and citizens of the county, the list including such well known names as W. H. Bean, President, J. N. Nall, Vice President, J. H. Wood and L. C. Morton, Directors, Alvin Rowe, Director and Cashier. Mr. Alvin Rowe who is the experienced and efficient cashier and the active head of the bank, is a financier of modern school and the great success of the institution is due in no small degree to his admirable methods.

DEXTER & VINCENT.

Harness, Hardware and Groceries.
Centertown, Ky.

The Dexter & Vincent firm is one of the most prominent mercantile concerns of the county, and since its organization in 1912, has been an important part in the merchandising and distributing system of the county, the store being completely stocked with a line of general merchandise embracing practically everything to eat for the average family. The stock is kept fresh and up to date at all times and nothing but the best quality of goods are ever handled. The firm attributes its phenomenal success and increase in patronage since its organization five years ago to the fact that it distributes dependable goods at reasonable prices, being satisfied with a small margin of profit on a large business, rather than striving for a big profit with a consequent small volume.

The firm is composed of S. M. Dexter and I. A. Vincent, two hustling and prominent business men, who combine with long experience in merchandising with the best of modern methods, and by their excellent services to the public have made the store among the best known in the

DON'T PLANT FRUIT TREES EARLY

Fall planting of fruit trees should be delayed to late November or early December, advises the United States Department of Agriculture. A pomologist of the department writes in reply to a New Jersey inquirer that it would be better to advise planting in any section as early as October because of probable injury to the trees. In sections of the North where cold weather prohibits planting in November or December, he says it is usually better to plant in the spring. Apple trees can be planted with safety in the fall rather than peach trees and other less hardy kind.

At the Missouri Experiment Station it recently has been shown that little or no root action takes place with fall planted trees until the surface of the ground has begun to freeze, and the trees planted early in the fall may lose considerable vitality before they begin root action.

It is just as important to prevent waste of food by careless preparation, burning, or improper cooking as it is to avoid waste of food after it is cooked.

W. L. DOCKERY.

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry.
Centertown, Ky.

For the past sixteen years the Dockery Jewelry Store has been established toward which Centertown and a large part of Ohio county has turned their steps in the market for anything in the jewelry line, for here you are always sure of finding absolutely dependable goods and dealing with an absolutely dependable business man, who stands behind every article that passes over his counter.

In his neat and attractive little store is to be found a nice line of the best makes of watches and time pieces the markets afford, a beautiful piece of jewelry for personal adornment. This is more than ever to be a jewelry Christmas and you should begin to think right now of the presents you are going to purchase and make arrangements to secure them at this splendid store.

In connection with the business Mr. Dockery has a watch-making and repairing department in which he has a reputation for accuracy known the county over. Mr. Dockery gives to this department his personal attention. Every job turned out here is guaranteed, and we have yet to hear of one that has not proven satisfactory in every particular.

L. C. MORTON & SON.

Druggists.
Centertown, Ky.

One of the most beautiful and useful business establishments of Centertown, is the drug store conducted by L. C. Morton & Son, who have been in business for eighteen years and has by the exercise of the best modern methods built up a patronage that extends over a wide area, and whose place is one of the most popular buying centers in the county. A complete line of drugs, chemicals and the favorite proprietary preparations are always in stock as well as toilet articles of all kinds, school supplies, rubber goods and sick room supplies.

A specialty is made of careful and accurate compounding of physicians' prescriptions, this work being in the hands of Mr. E. M. Morton, an experienced registered pharmacist of ability. In connection with the business they carry a complete line of guaranteed paints and oils. The firm is composed of Mr. L. C. Morton and E. M. Morton, his son, both gentlemen of long experience to which has been added the best of modern methods of business. They are well and favorably known in the commercial circles and are rated as among the progressive and substantial citizens of the county. Personally, they are courteous and pleasing gentlemen, possessing all the attributes of success, and have a circle of friends that is country-wide.

SIX QUESTIONS—THE DIXIE HIGHWAY

Are the roads in your county a credit to you, or are you ashamed of them?

Are the roads in your county wide enough for the convenient passage of cars?

Are the roads in your county marked so that the tourists from distant States have no difficulty keeping to the right road?

Are the roads in your county all-year-round roads, or only good weather roads?

Are the roads in your county such that the tourists traveling over them want to come back that way?

Are the roads in your county good enough for the transportation of military troops, with the accompanying supply, ammunition and engineer trains? You can never tell when your roads will be needed for this very service. Military trucks are heavy.

Oklahoma has joined the States which prohibit possession for sale of alibet, and in California the sale of alibet, birds of paradise, gourd pigeons, and certain other birds used in millinery is now illegal.

GREAT MOVEMENT OF AUTOMOBILES SOUTHWARD

[By James A. Hemstreet, Director of Touring American Automobile Association.]

This fall and winter will see the greatest movement of automobiles southward in the history of the country—with the star and stripes waving in a new sense from practically every car.

Their owners and their companions will make the trip to have a farewell look at the son or friend before he leaves camp to have a hand in carrying the Star and Stripes over the ramparts of autocracy in Europe, in making democracy safe for the world.

Every day since last summer the number of inquiries for routes to the southern camps had increased. These requests by the middle of October had become a veritable deluge.

Walter E. Flanders president of the Maxwell Motor Company Inc., of Detroit, at this point made an offer of co-operation to the American Automobile Association that in itself constituted one of the most far-reaching steps ever taken in behalf of motorists generally through America's premier automobilists' body.

Lending freely of his aid, Mr. Flanders offered for the A. A. A. the use of a bright new 1918 Maxwell car and with it the services of one of the company's road engineers. Mr. Flanders had secured the widespread value to motorists of the east of a complete new road mapping tour, and thus the Triple A was enabled to avail itself of information that will in turn be of immense value to the thousands of Americans whose sterling sons eagerly donned the khaki and now are developing in the various southern camps the wall-plop that will eventually play such a prominent part in the erasure of the Kaiser from the earth's activities.

The A. A. A. has ready for motorists everywhere new strip maps for each 125 miles of the distance. These handy little maps logged by the Maxwell give every little detail of the route, including all cross roads, road forks, creeks, rivers, mountains, historical points of interest to the tourist.

It goes without saying that any Maxwell man contemplating a drive to anyone of the camps has but to make that fact known to me and a set of maps will be forthcoming immediately.

SAVE GOOD YEARLING HENS.

Desirable to Keep Them in Order to Increase Poultry and Egg Supply.

Among farmers generally it is the common practice to sell the hens that are past a year old for poultry when they stop laying in the fall. Under the usual conditions this is good policy, for as a rule only about half of the flock lay well enough the second year to be profitable and the farmer who has pullets enough to replace all his old hens sees no advantage in keeping any of them over.

This year, however, those patriotic farmers, who desire to do their part to increase the poultry and egg supplies will find it desirable to retain a considerable proportion of the yearling hens. Farmers in the corn belt especially will find it to their interest to hold all the good yearling hens they have, making such addition to their poultryhouse equipment as may be necessary to properly accommodate both pullets and hens. Overcrowding must be avoided, as neither pullets nor hens will do their best.

Select Hens to Keep.

In selecting hens to keep over, preference should be given to those that molt in September or later, for they are—as a rule—the most persistent layers. Such hens may not be at this time the best looking in the flock. They are likely to be rough in plumage with somewhat shriveled combs and pale colored eggs. These things, however, are merely incidental to the non-laying and molting period.

Hens that appear in prime condition at this time are those that molted in the summer because they stopped laying early. The exceptions which it may be desirable to retain are hens which reared broods in early summer and molted while running with the chicks.

Persons who are doing heavy physical labor and very active children need more energy-yielding foods than those engaged in mental work or light physical labor. Some of the principal energy-yielding foods are cereals, bread and butter, corn breads, white and sweet potatoes, cream, and other wholesome fats, and sweets.

Sedges, rushes, chufa, and large swamp grasses are the natural food of billbugs; therefore destroy all such plants on land to be planted to corn next year.

THE HARTFORD HERALD—$1 yr.

WINTER EWES.

Save Grain by Feeding Legumes—Other Hays Require Protein Supplement.

Sheep can be successfully wintered with smaller use of grain than is needed for other live stock. If in good condition at the beginning of winter and given the right kind of hay they can be carried through the winter without grain unless the lambs are to be dropped before going to pasture. All depends upon the kind of hay or other roughage used.

Legume hays stand at the forefront as a roughage for sheep. No other roughages approach them in feeding values. The coarse-stemmed hays like timothy, red top and bluegrass have very few leaves and therefore are poor sheep feeds. Hays having a large amount of timothy in them also are undesirable. Not only is timothy unpalatable to the sheep, but it causes serious cases of constipation. The dry timothy heads work into the wool, causing irritation to the skin, lessening the value of the clip and making shearing difficult. When timothy or other coarse-stemmed hay is fed to sheep in winter quarters it becomes necessary to use some supplementary feed to keep the sheep in condition.

Linseed Meal as a Supplement.

If any nonlegume hay is fed, supplementary protein feed is needed. Linseed meal is good since in addition to furnishing protein it counteracts the constipation effect of timothy hay. From one-quarter to one-half pound of linseed meal per ewe daily should be used, depending upon the size and condition of the animal and the other feed used.

In an experiment conducted at the Missouri station and reported in bulletin No. 120, the relative value of clover and timothy hays for wintering ewes were determined.

Fifteen ewes 2.9 pounds timothy hay and 0.35 pound grain per head daily lost 7.6 pounds each during the same time that another lot receiving the same weight of grain and clover hay gained 6.5 pounds. The 14 ewes fed clover hay dropped 16 strong lambs, while those fed timothy dropped 11 strong and 5 weak lambs. The lambs from the ewes fed clover hay gained more rapidly during the first 30 days than did those from the ewes fed timothy hay.

Suffered Several Years. PERUNA MADE ME WELL

Its My Standby for a Cold.

Mrs. Elizabeth Reuther, 1002 11th St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes: "I endorse Peruna as a splendid medicine for catarrh and stomach trouble, from which I suffered several years. I took it for several months, found my health was restored and have felt splendidly ever since. I now take it when I contract a cold, and it soon rids the system of any catarrhal tendencies."

Those who object to liquid medicines can procure Peruna Tablets.

Pass Along the SMOKES

YOU warm-hearted people of Ohio county won't let the men who are fighting your fight go smoke-hungry.

Not a bit of it. You're going to see to it that they get all the tobacco they need—just as the folks back home in England and France are taking care of the smokes for Tommy and Poilu.

It isn't much to do—considering. A dollar or a quarter from you that gives a little comfort to one of your own flesh and blood, doesn't stack up to much alongside the fact that the very man you are befriending may have to give up his life.

But it's a regular thing to do—and you "regular" men and women will do it.

This is the way. Fill in that coupon below, put it in an envelope together with all you can afford to give and drop it in the nearest box now, addressed to

HARTFORD HERALD Tobacco Fund

Our paper has joined the Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times in this most worthy undertaking.

Approved by Secretaries of War and Navy, the management of this fund buys its tobacco at cost—every contribution of twenty-five cents means forty-five to fifty cents' worth of tobacco for the man out there. No one profits but the fighting man—rents, postage, advertising are all contributed and the soldier who gets your tobacco will send you a postal telling how much it meant to him.

There's no argument here. Just put your name on that blank line and pass along the smokes.

ROCKPORT

ROCKPORT is a bustling little city situated about half way between Beaver Dam and Central City, where the Illinois Central Railroad crosses Green River. The town has up-to-date churches, a good school, a good banking institution, and several mercantile concerns that would do credit to much larger towns. Its citizenry is progressive, and being located close to some of the county's best coal mines, makes it one of the most prosperous little cities in Kentucky.

ROCKPORT DEPOSIT BANK.

Resources, $63,888.63.

Rockport, Ky.

Rockport has one of the strongest and most prosperous banking institutions of any town of its size in the State, in the Rockport Deposit Bank, established fourteen years ago.

This sterling institution has enjoyed a steady growth and ever widening sphere of influence since its inception and today it is rated among the really important financial organizations of this section of the State; it is located in its own commodious building which is equipped with every modern convenience for the accurate and prompt conduct of a general banking business in all its branches, and the confidence reposed in it by the public is shown by the fact that it has individual deposits to the amount of $40,775.31. The bank is capitalized at $15,000 to which has been added a honestly earned surplus fund amply sufficient to care for its large operations. The bank is insured against loss by fire or burglary; its officers are all bonded and it is examined and controlled by the State Banking Department; in fact every possible measure is exercised to absolutely insure and protect the patrons of this institution from loss from any source. A modern saving department is one of the popular services of the bank, which pays 3 per cent on time deposits and is patronized extensively by all classes.

The prosperity of this institution and the degree of confidence reposed in it by the people of this section is engendered largely by the character and standing of its officers and directors, who are numbered among the most substantial and trust worthy citizens of the county. The list includes such well known names as Dr. A. D. Park, President; Mrs. Z. Harrel, Vice President; Jas. I. Hosick, Cashier; Carl Fraim, Assistant Cashier. The above named together with L. J. Render and R. L. McDowell are directors. All successful business men and highly esteemed by their fellows.

Mr. Jas. I. Hosick is the efficient cashier, a position he has filled most satisfactorily and under whose expert directions the institution has reached an enviable position.

The officials have united with safe conservation all the modern conveniences and methods of banking and offer a service that is second to none in the State.

HARREL BROS.

General Merchandise and Building Material.

Rockport, Ky.

No history of the commercial life of Ohio county would be complete without a sketch of the activities of Harrel Bros., which began in 1898. The success they have enjoyed is evidence of the satisfactory manner in which they have served the public in all these years. The store is housed in their own commodious building and has a complete stock of the best grades clothing, furnishing for men and boys, carpets, matings and floor covering of all kinds. Also a full line of home furnishing is handled for housekeeping, newlyweds to the beautiful odd pieces that add so much to the beauty and comfort of the home, as well as a full line of the purest and freshest staple and fancy groceries. In connection with the business is a complete drug store, which has become the family center for those in search of the best of drugs and chemicals and other proprietary remedies, toilet articles and sick room supplies. A specialty is made of a careful and accurate compounding of prescriptions. This work being under the personal direction of Mr. J. A. Howard, a graduate and registered pharmacist of long experience, excellent training and great ability. The firm is composed of Messrs. L. F. and Z. Harrel; are well known in the business world, highly esteemed in their community for their excellent qualities and public spiritedness. They are courteous and pleasing in their business methods which makes it an added pleasure to do business in their store.

HARDEN & McDANIEL.

General Merchandise.

Rockport, Ky.

No review of the commercial history and development of Ohio county and Rockport could be attempted without mention of this most popular firm.

The store with its departmental service, is conveniently located and in it at all times is to be found the most comprehensive line of the best quality of merchandise to be seen in this section of the country, and priced at remarkably low figures when the quality of the goods is taken into consideration. These excellent gentlemen learned early in their business career that quality in merchandise lasted long after the price was forgotten and adopted the policy of distributing only best, which accounts in no small degree for the enviable reputation this store enjoys throughout the entire county. A complete line of merchandise, groceries, dry goods, notions and shoes for men, ladies and children, is carried. This store is complete with a department of shelf hardware and stoves.

Messrs. Harden & McDaniel are classed among the most substantial business gentlemen of the county and are public spirited and progressive citizens highly esteemed by all.

JAMES BROWNING.

Druggist.

Rockport, Ky.

One of the oldest and most reliable drug stores in this section of the State is that conducted by Mr. James Browning, who has been in business many years, during which time his place has earned and merited a reputation for excellent service and quality goods that extends over a wide radius of territory.

The store is conveniently located and is well furnished and equipped with every modern appliance for the accurate compounding of physicians prescriptions. Mr. Browning, who is himself a registered pharmacist, has charge of this department.

A complete line of drugs, toilet articles and finest cigars, and tobaccos carried. In connection with this complete drug store a splendid stock of canned goods, country produce, etc.

Mr. James Browning, the proprietor of this prosperous and popular business, is one of the best known citizens of the county and it is always a pleasure to deal with a firm of this high order.

W. E. ELLIS & BRO.

Farming Implements and Fertilizer, Feed and Produce, Wholesale and Retail.

Hartford, Ky.

One of the most prominent and widely known business firms of Ohio county is W. E. Ellis & Brother. The business was established by Mr. W. E. Ellis seven years ago, and partnership was formed with his brother, Mr. B. H. Ellis, four years later. The business of the Ellis concern is most varied in its many lines and its area of usefulness extends over a large section of the country. The concern is one of the largest cash buyers and shippers of everything that is produced on the farm, such as eggs, poultry and hides. Owing to their acquaintance, they are in a position to pay the prices a little better than can be procured elsewhere, as their products are shipped to the far northern and eastern cities where the highest prices prevail. Cash is paid at all times, and the store is now in the market for turkeys, popcorn and country produce of all kinds. They are also the distributors of the International Harvester line and Vulcan Chilled Plows for this section of the State. Both Mr. W. E. and B. H. Ellis, who compose this progressive firm, are well known and highly esteemed in business circles and enjoy a reputation for square cut and admirable methods among the buying public that brings in patronage from all over Ohio and surrounding counties.

J. B. TAPPAN.

The Jeweler Who Sells at Before-War-Prices in These Days of Mounting Markets.

Hartford, Ky.

Looking back over the business career of Mr. J. B. Tappan, most popular jeweler and optician of Hartford, a constant and steady growth is observed as the cause for two changes in location having been made. In 1900 Mr. Tappan entered the jewelry business at South Carrollton where he remained four years. His fair dealing soon made a great name for him and his business assumed such proportions that he decided to enlarge his field and consequently moved to Beaver Dam. The same story of rapid rise and successful enterprise that marked his stay in South Carrollton was repeated in Beaver Dam with the result that in 1906 Mr. Tappan moved his stock to Hartford where he has been enjoying the very best of business ever since.

Today when everything on the market from mousetraps to Palm Beach villas has practically doubled in price, we find Mr. Tappan conducting his business along patriotic lines and selling at before-the-war prices. Though material of all kinds used in his chosen profession is taking a skyrocket rise on the market, Mr. Tappan is still selling at the old figures because he was farsighted enough to anticipate war prices and secured immense stocks in advance. And he is giving the people the advantage of his superior buying qualities.

Today he will clean a watch just as thoroughly and satisfactorily as it can be done for the same old price of $1.00. He has increased his optical work not one penny and the same high class workmanship and advice is obtainable for a nominal fee. Mr. Tappan's Christmas stock of cut glass, silverware, jewelry novelties, watches, clocks, stick pins, bracelets, wrist watches, etc., etc., is just beginning to arrive by every express and when the Hartford and Ohio county shoppers "a-shopping go" they will surely find the greatest values and the greatest variety at Tappan's. Courteous treatment, efficient service and reasonable prices rule the roost at Tappan's.

ACTON BROS.

Groceries, Furniture, Farming Implements and Harness.

Hartford, Ky.

One of the show places of Hartford is the beautiful, modern grocery, furniture and implement store conducted by Acton Bros., one of the most complete establishments of its kind in the county.

The business was established by Mr. A. C. Acton in 1910, and the More Cloaks!

Just received from our New York connections. Cloaks are one of the scarcest commodities on the New York market. Nothing but the persistent efforts of our representative and our big outlet enabled us to get a big shipment for our four stores.

These Right-Up-to-The-Minute Garments

are on our racks, and every customer who secures one of these brand new cloaks can consider themselves lucky. Don't let another day pass without making your selection. Delays will be dangerous and expensive the latter part of the season. Prices range.

partnership with his brother, Mr. L. C. Acton, was formed in 1912.

A full and complete line of furniture, stoves, carpets, rugs, groceries, produce, hardware, farming implements, harness, seed, fertilizer, paint. High-grade rubber roofing is carried at all times.

The firm has had a steady increasing patronage since its inception, and the volume of business transacted at present is testimony of the high regard in which the Messrs. Acton Bros. are held by the people of Ohio county.

Both Messrs. A. C. and L. C. Acton have a wide acquaintance among the citizens of the county, and having the knack of making lasting friends of their patrons, they draw a tremendous trade from the rural population.

They are courteous, honest and straightforward in their business dealings and are possessed of pleasing personalities which makes it a pleasure to do business at their store.

W. C. SCHLEMMER & CO.

Hartford Bakery.

Confectioneries, Cakes and Ice Cream

Hartford, Ky.

Among the oldest and more substantial business concerns of Hartford is the W. C. Schlemmer & Company's Bakery, which has conducted a successful baking business here for seventeen years. Eight years ago the establishment was moved into its present convenient location and the equipment modernized and expanded. A general wholesale and retail baking business in all its branches is conducted the specialty being the famous Schlemmer bread, which is distributed widely throughout the surrounding country. Breads, cakes, pies and confectioneries of the most wholesome and appetizing kind are produced in large quantities, and have a wide reputation for their purity, freshness and general excellence.

Prompt attention is given to all orders and the delivery and shipping service is all that could be desired. The business is under the personal direction of Mr. W. C. Schlemmer, and by his economical management, has enabled them to keep selling prices at the lowest possible level, which interests both dealers and consumers during the present reign of high prices.

To those who are not patrons of the Schlemmer Bakery, we would recommend that they give its products a fair trial, feeling sure that they will be found satisfactory in every detail.

Gentlemen: Enclosed find check for $1.00 for which send me The Herald one year. We are now making our home in Texas and would like to have the Hartford and Ohio county news weekly. Please begin with the first issue of this month.

Respectfully,

Strong In the Hub

That's the kind of a wagon you want—strong in the hub. No wagon is stronger than its wheels, and no wheel is stronger than its hub. Look at that hub you get on

OWENSBORO

Made of extra select, bone dry, white oak butts seasoned through and through and saturated with pure linseed oil before painting. With the toughest, hot glue dipped, A Grade spokes driven in, the "Owensboro" hub becomes one solid piece, which, with the many other features, makes the "Owensboro" wagon the strongest, safest, lightest running wagon made.

Come See the "Owensboro" Here

Come and see the "Owensboro" just as it is, ready for you to hitch your team to and drive away in, with more wagon value and wagon satisfaction for your money than the owner of any wagon unless it's an "Owensboro."
